e The competition is open for anyone owning an e-mail address. Only one team per person (more of 18 years). There are not prizes to be won.
2. Select 10 base riders, 5 reserves riders, 5 extra riders, 1 Joker for each jersey, one special stage and one rest stage.
\& A team can be altered before the prologue. After the start, the extra riders will take the place of a base or reserve rider that doesn't start. Each following rider go one place up and the first extra rider become fifth reserve. The remaining extra riders will not be used in later parts of the game. If the number of extra riders is not sufficient, the $16^{\circ}$ of the prologue is add, then the $17^{\circ} \ldots$
& The JOKERS: The points win by a Joker are multiply by two for the concerned jersey, at each stage (not for the final ranking). A rider may be joker several times.
2. If a joker are not starting, the first base rider of the team is joker for the concerned jersey.
& Choose good the reserves. If a base rider doesn't start the first available reserve rider take is place. The points win by the reserve rider in the precedent stages are not count. If a joker is replaced, the reserve rider become not joker.
& For the special stage, all the points win in the stage are multiply by two. (The points of the jokers for the concerned jersey are multiply by four).
$&$ The day of your rest stage you score 0 point.
$&$ If one or more stage are cancelled they are consider as rest stages. In this case all other stage will be consider as normal (include your rest stage) and the special stages concerned are replace with the reserve special stage.
& The official result of a stage is the result as published by Cyclingnews.com. If a rider is disqualified the next day, the ranking is not modified.
& If a rider leave the Giro, they points stay acquire for the player.
